Support television programming that speaks to your local community.

Engaging, informing and entertaining people and businesses of Central New Jersey and surrounding communities.

With local programming as its bedrock, CNJN provides local, national and international news coverage. It is also one of the largest public producers of original content in New Jersey, delivering programs on local business, educational, nonprofits, and legislative leaders delivering perspectives on important, timely topics while answering viewers questions.

History: Central New Jersey Network Television (CNJN) was created in 2020 to serve as the Community Television station for Central New Jersey. While its predecessor station, Princeton Community Television (PCTV) served the town of Princeton for 25 years, the new CNJN Television has expanded its geographic footprint to include four television channels, three streaming service partnerships, a new internet television station.

CNJN Television today reaches over 200,000 households in the Central New Jersey Region.

Highlighting local programming CNJN features show content around; Influencers in New Jersey, Women focused conversations, Diversity dialogs, Buy Local opportunities and Financial Informational shows.

In addition, CNJN Television provides a format for local individuals to create their own programming, showcase their nonprofit organizations and provides opportunities for the many faces and stories in our region. With our new 24 hour television format CNJN Television provides programming for everyone.
